Course Information

Introduction

There are no specific entry requirements for this program, and it is targeted for domestic students. The development of the program was with consultation with industry advisors to respond to a need that has developed for additional educational vacancies for specialist aged care industry positions that will benefit from Nationally Recognised Training.

Several units of competency require the use of a computer. You are expected to supply your own device such as a laptop, notebook or pad that is capable of Wi-Fi connectivity and loaded with the Microsoft suite of programs.

As a candidate, you will be required to show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

This course is accredited by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) and is compliant with the Australian Qualification Framework

Duration and Conduct	To maintain satisfactory course progress, a student is expected to maintain satisfactory attendance, as well as participate in classroom learning activities. Students are also required to successfully complete all their assessment tasks. This represents satisfactory course progress.

Course Conduct

The program will be delivered by Westminster College at a location that meets the College environmental requirements as an institution based Training and Assessment program. A student's program is considered to have completed a successful academic program with a determination of COMPETENT in 11 Units of Competency over a maximum period of 36 study weeks. The delivery method that will be available is face to face institution based. Any successful UOC completed but is less than the entire qualification will be recognised by the issue of a Statement of Attainment. There will be scheduled breaks during the year for the application of intervention methods for affected student's and a recreation break for others; there is a programmed extended break during December/January.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) - is the formal recognition of the skills and knowledge a person has regardless of how or where these skills may have been attained, that is, through formal or informal training work experience, (paid and unpaid) voluntary work and life experience. The evidence provided for RPL must address the currency of competencies being assessed. Westminster College confirms that all students, potential or actual, of all offered accredited courses are provided with full recognition of their current skills and knowledge. Westminster College promotes acknowledgment of 'non-traditional' forms of learning as valid pathways for recognition of competency achievement during the RPL assessment process. RPL will result in exemptions and it can be determined by applying for an application from your agent or directly from Westminster College.

Attendance Requirement

To maintain satisfactory course progress for the program duration, a student is expected to maintain satisfactory attendance (80%), as well as participate in classroom learning activities. Attendance is determined as 2.5 days per academic week. Students are also required to successfully complete all their assessment tasks and achieve a pass of not less than 50% throughout the program. This represents satisfactory course progress. Students who do not maintain an attendance rate of 70% or higher will not be permitted re-assessment of any kind unless compassionate reasons apply.

Assessment

Westminster College will use a combination of assessment methods and approaches which will involve collecting a range of evidence for ensuring consistency of competency. Assessment may include written assignments, projects and portfolio of evidence. The portfolios may include forms, templates and resources produced, documents completed and handouts. Where a student fails one (1) or more assessment methods within a single UOC, they are to be re-assessed once, free of charge, and this must be completed within the immediate operational term or as soon as possible following that term, as per the College's re-assessment policy. If the student does not pass the free additional assessment method, they are to be offered one (1) more opportunity for re assessment, with the provision, that they must be charged a fee for each opportunity within the immediate following term or as soon as possible following that term.
