Course Conduct

The program will be delivered by Westminster College at a location that meets the College environmental requirements as an institution-based Training and Assessment program. A student's program is considered to have completed a successful academic program with a determination of COMPETENT in 14 Units of Competency over a maximum period of 80 study weeks. The delivery method that will be available is face to face institution based. Any successful UOC completed but is less than the entire qualification will be recognised by the issue of a Statement of Attainment. There will be scheduled breaks during the year for recreation (24 weeks).

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) - is the formal recognition of the skills and knowledge a person has regardless of how or where these skills may have been attained, that is, through formal or informal training work experience, (paid and unpaid) voluntary work and life experience. The evidence provided for RPL must address the currency of competencies being assessed. Westminster College confirms that all students, potential or actual, of all offered accredited courses are provided with full recognition of their current skills and knowledge. Westminster College promotes acknowledgment of 'non-traditional' forms of learning as valid pathways for recognition of competency achievement during the RPL assessment process. RPL will result in exemptions, and it can be determined by applying for an application from your agent or directly from Westminster College.

To maintain satisfactory course progress for the program duration, a student is expected to maintain satisfactory attendance (80%), as well as participate in classroom learning activities. Attendance is determined as 2.5 days per academic week. Students are also required to successfully complete all their assessment tasks and achieve a pass of not less than 50% throughout the program. This represents satisfactory course progress. Students who do not maintain an attendance rate of 70% or higher will not be permitted re-assessment of any kind unless compassionate reasons apply.

Assessment may include written assignments, projects, and portfolio of evidence. The portfolios may include forms, templates and resources produced, documents completed and handouts. Where a student fails one (1) or more assessment methods within a single UOC, they are to be re-assessed once, free of charge, and this must be completed seven (7) days, as per the College's re-assessment policy. If the student does not pass the free additional assessment method, they are to be offered one (1) more opportunity for re assessment, and that they must be charged a fee for the opportunity and submitted within seven (7) days.
